

Phrasal Verbs

Using the terms:

Have students match the verb with the particle to make phrasal verbs. Whoever gets the most is the winner. My class went nuts for this one. It stirred up lots of questions and interest. Use this as warm up and as a way to make some great word lists. In that weeks' conversations, students should use the phrasal verbs you came up with.

Note: As I said, my students really had a great time with this though I was surprised by this. I've used it several times and always had fun with it. But it's one of those activities whose appeal I can't actually really understand as I don't particularly find it very fun.
