

Chores and Errands

About the words

This is an unusual group of terms in that it is the first group to be made up of terms and images specifically requested by users. The first image of “ironing” I had made as part of a blog but when I got a great request to have some chores and errands images on the site I knew it was time to expand.

Who is this sheet for?

These cards are for kids or beginner students who want a quick boost in their vocabulary relating to the million and one household chores that we all have to do. Even as I write this I have a pile of laundry and a bunch of gardening to do. So, I hope they are help and a good bit of fun to use.

Using the worksheet

There are countless ways to use cards in classes. Games of memory, matching games, and games where kids run to the card or throw the card into a hat for a point. As long as you are active and fun and the kids are enjoying themselves you’re going to have a great time and they are too. Make sure you and your students say the words again and again and speak, make sentences so everyone can hear and say the sentences in context.

Note: Kids have a way of destroying cards they get hold of, so after printing the cards you might want to laminate them and remember to round off the edges so no one gets a sharp card in the eye. If you do it well enough this opens up the usage of the cards for a few good games where you can flick or flip the cards to be more active.

Credit

All images created by hand, by Mike Kloran. Check out more of my illustration and educational design at:

www.myenglishimages.com and my portfolio at: www.kloran.com

mow
the grass

vacuum
the
floor

fold
the
laundry

hang
the
laundry

wash
the
dishes

iron
the
clothes

make
the
bed

water
the
plants

take out
the
trash

sweep
the
floor

do
the
laundry

clean
the
table

mop
the
floor

“Dust the furniture” is an alternate word card to “clean the table.” Many of these cards can be used for “clean” but if you specifically want to use one card for the verb dust that one can work well.

dust
the furniture