

through^{the} ages

- A: Do you know your grandparents?
B: Well they passed away a few years ago but I knew them pretty well. Why?
A: I was talking to my dad yesterday and I asked him about his grandparents. He didn't know much about them.
B: I see. That's not so surprising.
A: Yeah, but I'm curious about them. I'm named after my grandmother's father and I wonder what he was like.
B: What did he do?
A: He was a farmer in Ohio.
B: I guess he must have been pretty tough.

He	might have	lived near here.
		owned some land.
She	must have	met at work.
		been pretty tough.
They		loved each other a lot.
		had a lot of money.

- A: Who are these people in this photograph?
B: Oh, those are my great grandparents on my mother's side. I don't know what their names are.
A: Wow. They had a cool old car. I guess they must have been rich.
B: Your might be right. I think they might have been farmers. But I'm not really sure.
A: Where were they from?
B: They were Dutch but they lived in Indiana.
A: My grandparents were Dutch too.
B: Where did they live?
A: Actually they built the house I live in now.

through^{the}ages

A: Who are these people in the photograph?

B: They're my grandparents.

A: They look so happy. They must have loved each other a lot.

B: Yeah. They were married for over forty years.

A: That's amazing. Did you know them well?

B: Yeah, we were really close. They were so funny.

A: Yeah?

B: Yeah. My grandfather told crazy jokes all the time.

He	might have	lived near here.
		owned some land.
She	must have	met at work.
		been pretty tough.
They		loved each other a lot.
		had a lot of money.

A: Who's the baby in this picture?

B: That's your grandfather.

A: Really? He must have been a funny kid.

B: My grandmother said he always made a big mess.

A: That sounds like me.

B: Yeah. Actually you take after him a lot.

A: Really? How?

B: You're both messy and you tell terrible jokes.

A: What!?! Hey! My jokes are great.

