

The ART World

- A: Did you have a good weekend?
B: Yeah, it was ok. I went to an art gallery on Friday with some friends.
A: Nice. What kind of art was it?
B: I'm not really sure. They had a lot of these little glass objects. They looked a bit like something from nature.
A: Oh. That sounds neat. Did you take any pictures?
B: Yeah I posted a few on Facebook.
A: Cool. I'll check it out later. I didn't know you were interested in art.
B: I'm not that interested in it but I like checking out new things so it was a good experience.
A: Nice. I feel the same way.

Some art	is more about	the idea	than	the images.
This class		the test		the topic.
This movie		the special effects		the story.

- A: I really like that painting on your wall. Is it yours?
B: Thanks. My brother made that actually.
A: Nice. He's really good. Is he professional?
B: I think it's more of a hobby but he has a website and sells sometimes. I'll send you a link to his site.
A: Thanks so much. I always like paintings that look like something. You know what I mean?
B: Yeah, you mean you don't like abstract images?
A: Yeah. I guess. I just don't understand that kind of thing.
B: I know what you mean. I think a lot of art work is more about the ideas and less about the images.
A: I guess so. In my case I just like pretty images.
B: You know, I have a book that might help.
