

GHANA

- A: What are you eating?
B: Some Ghana chocolate. I love this brand.
A: I haven't tried it. Is it good?
B: It's chocolate! Of course it's good.
A: I don't know. I'm not a big fan of bitter chocolate.
B: Me neither. This is really good though.
A: Wait, what does Ghana mean?
B: Well it's the country name. But I looked it up. It means "warrior king."
A: Wow! Where does that come from.
B: There used to be a kingdom where Ghana is today. So, the name comes from that.

- A: What are you going to do for the long weekend?
B: I'm going to visit my grandfather for a few days.
A: That sounds good. You said your grandfather's from Ghana, right?
B: Right. He's a really good guy. I like seeing him.
A: Yeah? What's he like?
B: It's hard to describe. But, he's really relaxed. He always says these interesting things.
A: Like what?
B: He said, "The past, present, and future are simultaneous." It's a Ghanaian saying.
A: What does that mean?
B: I'm not sure what it means. But it sounds deep. Maybe, I should ask him.

---

Q:	What	does that	mean?
A:	It means	Warrior King.
	I don't know	what	it means.
	I'm not sure		