

Animal Sounds

About the words

Animals make some pretty amazing sounds. Sometimes it's hard to even describe them. Dogs alone make a ton of different sounds like, bark, woof, yap, yelp, huff, howl, whine, etc. Other animals don't seem to make much sound at all like rabbits, and worms. Still other animals make sounds but we don't have onomatopoeia for them in English like the elephant. So, have fun with these sounds and feel free to take some liberties with what sounds you use with each creature. (But have fun doing so.)

Who is this sheet for?

These cards are for any students who want to talk about the fuzzy, sometimes creepy crawly creatures all around us. I've used them with students to lighten up our regular conversations by adding one or two images into an activity. I've also used them to talk about endangered species like the tiger and gorilla and used the Dodo bird as an example of an extinct species.

Using the worksheet

There are countless ways to use cards in classes. Games of memory, matching games, and games where kids run to the card or throw the card into a hat for a point. As long as you are active and fun and the kids are enjoying themselves you're going to have a great time and they are too. Make sure you and your students say the words again and again and speak, make sentences so everyone can hear and say the sentences in context.

Note: Kids have a way of destroying cards they get hold of, so after printing the cards you might want to laminate them and remember to round off the edges so no one gets a sharp card in the eye. If you do it well enough this opens up the usage of the cards for a few good games where you can flick or flip the cards to be more active.
