

by & until

A: Do you want to go out for lunch today?
B: I'd like to, but I brought my lunch today.
A: Oh nice. What did you make?
B: Well, I just made a light salad.
A: Oh, okay. Are you on a diet, or something?
B: Kind of. I want to lose a little weight by my wedding day.
A: Oh wow. You must be really excited. When is it again?
B: Well it's in a couple months so, I have until then to get ready. But the planning is really tough.
A: I hear you. Planning my wedding was a nightmare. There were so many details to take care of. It drove me crazy.

I have to	finish my report	by	five o'clock.
I want to	save some money		the start of summer.
I'd like to	lose some weight		my wedding day.
My boss gave me (from now)	until	five o'clock	to finish my report.
I have (from now)		the start of summer	to save some money.
I can take (from now)		my wedding day	to lose some weight.

A: Are you okay? You look busy.
B: Yeah I am. I have two presentations to work on, and a meeting with some clients later today.
A: Is there anything I can do to help?
B: No, but thank you for offering. I don't need to give my presentations until next Friday. I'm pretty sure I'll finish them by then.
A: That's good. When is your meeting today?
B: It's not until six thirty. But I have to prepare these documents by two. I'm busy after that.
A: I'll let you get to it then. Good luck.